RE: HeloAir performs a second external load lift in Downtown Richmond

Richmond, VA - On Saturday, November 30th, HeloAir, Inc. conducted an external load lift onto the roof of the Bank of America building in Downtown Richmond. A total of 52 lifts were performed. It was the second lift to be done working with Baker Roofing. Pilot Rodger Crawley said "this job had it's challenges, but we were able to complete it in one day". The aircraft used for the lift was a Bell 407. "We had a team on the roof and on the ground ensuring everything went as planned. We also utilized two pilots throughout the day".
